You asked

In your NHS trust do you have a board/exec level representative responsible for mental health/wellbeing who is solely dedicated to improving staff mental health and wellbeing? This information should cover from Jan 2019 to present day (or Jan 2021) if a fixed date is required.

Our reply

At University Hospitals Plymouth NHS Trust Staff, our Director of People has executive board level responsibility as part of their overall remit, for Staff Health & Wellbeing, including mental health support for our staff. The Trust has also recently appointed one of its Non-Executive Directors to take on the role of Trust Wellbeing Guardian, a new and additional assurance role at Board level, in which the guardian looks at the organisation's activities through a holistic health and wellbeing lens.
